Why it is Important

When parents get involved, their child has a greater chance at being successful in school.

The most effective form of parent involvement are times when parents work directly with their children on learning activities at home.

When parents are involved, positive student behaviors increase and negative behaviors decrease.

Monitor screen time and internet use – BE AWARE of what your kids are watching and the web sites they visit. (Doctor recommendation: Do not exceed 2 hours a day)

Find a balance of activities in and out of school that works for YOUR child.

Teacher are more successful in working with students that have active parental involvement

Parents become empowered by their child's learning.

Let your child make mistakes, don't make excuses for them. Guide them to make better choices in the future, and let them learn from the consequences.
