NEWS RELEASE

April 1, 2020 – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Clifton Public Schools Maintains Daily Routines amid Distance Learning

The Clifton Public Schools faculty, staff, and administration have been working day in and day out to maintain the daily routines for our children.

Students from School 12 created a video of the Pledge of Allegiance and their rendition of “This Land is Your Land” for their April 1, 2020 morning exercises which was posted on the district social media accounts. The community response to Clifton’s daily updates and routines has been overwhelmingly positive, particularly regarding this morning’s pledge from School 12:

“Perfect! Great job! Brought back some great grammar school memories! Thanks for the smile.”

“As a citizen of Clifton and this great Nation, this was just beautiful. It quite literally made me cry. THANK YOU for posting this and teaching the future generations. This was truly beautiful.”

“I’m a Clifton resident and teach in a different district. Everything I have seen so far shows what a great job Clifton Public Schools is doing with distance learning. Great job, everyone!”

Faculty and staff continue to send weekly videos with messages of hope for the students, their families, and the community.

Dr. Robertozzi, Superintendent of Clifton Public Schools, stated in his March 28th letter to the Clifton Community, “We live in a complex world, and day-to-day predictable, repetitive patterns, provide us with stability. Routines have a significant impact on our productivity, health, and overall well-being, and this is particularly vital for children.”
